The Gold Star List

Lads whose laughter I shall not hear again,
    with whom I've quarreled, drunk, shared joys and woes,
Some of my heart is buried there with you
    Beneath the waters and the sands and snows.
When the town grows still and the lights come on,
    I walk the streets, my eyes grow blind with tears,
Remembering you, your promises and dreams—
    The golden and the unreturning years.
We who are left will live our petty lives
    And deal with little things, and age and die,
But the undying beauty of the world
    Is there forever with you where you lie.
I remember the bright ways and the quick smiles
    Of lads who fell on hill and field and shore,
And I mourn the irrevocable lost day,
    And a grace and a charm that come no more.

Class Hymn - 1945

Dear Lord, please grant our pray'r for tomorrow,
That we may lead a suff'ring world to peace;
That all men's hearts, so burdened with sorrow,
Can honestly smile when the strife will cease.
'Though tonight many classmates do not here with us stand,
Across the separating miles we join in heart and hand.
Please guide our boys and show them Thy mercy.
Protect their souls through the bloody night,
'Till dawns the day of goodness and glory;
For right can and will triumph over might;
For right can and must triumph.

Amen.

Class History

1942-1943

September 25, 1942. Dear diary: Today some of our bewilderment and despair was lifted by advice from faculty officers. This was the very first Bassick assembly we ever attended.

June 5-7. Thank goodness it's over; we could't stand another hectic period like that one. And the anxiety, whew! But at least we have elected our class officers.

June 14. Flag Day Assembly. The first meeting of the newly organized class of '45. Bob Allard, Sue Prevot, Barbara Gilbert, Gil Noren, and Shirley Nieuwboer addressed us as we had the first chance to get a good look at our adviser, Miss Marie B. Cooney.

1943-1944

October 10. The vacation is now over, and much as we may regret its ending we are all happy to see each other again. Five percent of our class received the silver Scholarship-Leadership pins at our first junior assembly.

October 20. Today our mothers met the teachers. We wonder!

April 6. All Girls' Day—The feminine half of our class became models, sporting new spring outfits and bathing suits, and munching on refreshments to the tune of June Pettigrew's soft music and comments by Evelyn Tower and Alice Johnson. Shucks! The boys couldn't go.

April 25. The Junior Frolic, our first big social plunge came off today. Apple blossoms and ice cream and cake gave the event an air of romance and festivity.

May 25. The final junior assembly was scheduled for today. The next time we meet we'll be Seniors.

1944-1945

September 20. We couldn't all attend the junior assembly, but five per cent of our class did and were awarded gold Scholarship-Leadership pins.

October 26. Frankly we don't know what it is and we don't care! All we know is that tonight the Cider Jamboree will be in session. We also hear that Swami Goldstein will attempt to delve into the occult subject of divination and predict the future. Our treasurer has hinted that the dance will be not only a social but also a financial success.

November 18. A little special gathering today. Rita Gann and her associates presented a humorous skit at an assembly intended to enliven the school spirit. We'll need plenty of spirit if we're going to beat Fairfield this year.

December 1. Looking forward to Christmas, we resolve to be on our best behavior from now on. Let's hope that we can be as good actors as the members of the senior play. Spring Green was a superb production; especially when you consider that it was presented in record time.

December 19. Shirley Nieuwboer got our votes today for the D.A.R. award.

December 26. Nobody believed that we could do it; and we had a little trouble obtaining permission for this Christmas Formal, but it certainly was a wonderful Christmas present. The Ritz ballroom, the gorgeous evening gowns, and Bill Whalen and Shirley Nieuwboer, the king and queen of the winter festival, all contributed to make this one of the brightest spots on our entire social calendar.

March 20. Wittiest, best looking, most likely to succeed. What a grueling experience! Finally, however, we have filled out the list of class characteristics.

March 21. Our mothers came back for another conference with the teachers at the Senior Mothers' Tea. Frankly, we're worried!

May 18. The final senior assembly. Graduation is just around the corner now.

May 25. Tonight's the night. The much talked of Senior Prom is a reality. We may seem slightly nervous and hesitant now, but wait till we get out on the dance floor tonight. We'll show them a thing or two.

June 8. Class Day. The last day of school is gone. Only graduation and two weeks of preparation for it remain.

June 22. Our high school education is now only a memory, and a fond one for most of us. Only yesterday we were students struggling through textbooks. Tomorrow we shall be members of a broader society in which the foundation laid for us in high school will be an inspiration and a source of strength. We'll never forget our high school days; they have been some of the most enjoyable and fruitful of our lives.

Senior Delegates

The Senior Delegates are the ones who take the money from the seniors, and decide for them how they will spend it. The delegates, advised by their home rooms, meet with Miss Marie B. Cooney, the senior class adviser, to discuss the probable activities and problems that may confront the senior class.

The Senior Class President presides over the meeting, and reports of all officers and committees are taken up at that time. The senior Director of Activities and the members of her committee see that the social calendar is filled for all possible dates.

After each meeting these representatives report to their respective home rooms and relay the minutes of their meeting to the class. Suggestions for further activities are taken from the student body. The successfulness and smooth-running of their group determine the quality of the senior activities for the year.

Class Will

We, the Class of 1945, of Bassick High School, still being of sound mind after three years in these hallowed halls, do now dispose of our properties worldly and otherwise in this, our last will and testament.

First: To Mr. Jeffery, our thanks and appreciation for the aid he has given us throughout the years.

Second: To Miss Kavanah we leave the hope that there will be fewer candidates for her admit slips in the future.

Third: To Miss Gallahue we leave our gratitude for her able and sincere guidance.

Fourth: To our class adviser, Miss Cooney, our sincerest appreciation for her generosity and understanding which have made these two years a success.

Fifth: To Miss Donnelly, our pain-soother, more accurate thermometers.

Sixth: Bob Allard leaves his job as Class President to the competent Junior leader, Bud Casey.

Seventh: Gil Noren leaves his key to the Bassick safe to popular Paul Gulyassy.

Eighth: Kenneth Thomas leaves his quiet dignity to Albert Wallert.

Ninth: Pat Casazza leaves to Shirley McKinney a whole year's supply of popcorn to be eaten only during study period.

Tenth: To the Junior boys, the few remaining Senior boys leave a book entitled "How to Avoid the Draft," and all available armor as protection against the girls.

Eleventh: Vic Vineberg leaves his love of capitalism to Harold Zirin.

Twelfth: To any erstwhile genius who is mad enough to think he can make it run, Bill Martin and Ed Thompson leave the "Bunsen Burner".

Thirteenth: Ed Giambra leaves his mile-a-minute backstroke to Bill Piascik.

Fourteenth: John Dominguez leaves his well-known catching ability to up-and-coming sophomore, Zeke Turczi.

Fifteenth: Sue Prevot leaves her winsome ways as Vice-president to Sue Bitzer—one Sue to another.

Sixteenth: John McGoldrick, the "Monday Morning Quarterback" of the gym class, leaves this amazing talent (?) to Wes Hobby.

Seventeenth: Bob Dunn, our stage hero, leaves his acting ability to Bob (Taylor) Stock of the sophomore class.

Eighteenth: Charles "Dead-Pan" Eaton leaves his drumming to any future Gene Krupa.

Nineteenth: Barbara Gilbert wills her platinum blonde tresses to Barbara Ann Trelease. (What a place for a "Bob").

Twentieth: To ready junior, Iris Abrams, Evelyn Tower leaves her wit and reportorial ability.

Twenty-First: John McNamara wills his sense of fun to comedian Bob Alderson.

Twenty-Second: Ernie Ecsedy leaves his "rah-rah" ability to Grover O'Neill.

Twenty-Third: To Shirley Toth, Mary C. Bradley leaves her quiet and refined manner.

Twenty-Fourth: To Mr. Ham the Seniors leave a joke book written in seven languages with which to enlighten the "general dumb public".

Twenty-Fifth: To Bunny Brewer, David Liptak leaves his enjoyment of the "weaker sex".

Twenty-Sixth: To Denny Ekins, Shirley Nieuwboer leaves her charm and sparkling personality.

Class Will

Twenty-Seventh: The King, Bill Whalen, leaves his handsome and winning manner to junior Vincent Bartosik.

Twenty-Eighth: The well-thumbed edition of "How to Write a Better Composition" is being handed down to the unfortunates who follow us for the express purpose of learning how to write better excuses for Miss Donnelly.

Twenty-Ninth: Robert Hubbard leaves his gray matter to any ten juniors who think they can take his place.

Thirtieth: Howie Martin leaves his "technique" to Eddie Sponberg to add to his already ample "line".

Thirty-First: The "pigskin champ", Joe Ciccia, leaves his ability to handle the ball to Tony Rashan.

Thirty-Second: The "Voice", Roy Newton, leaves his power to make the weaker sex swoon, to John Tolnay.

Thirty-Third: To keep Bassick's halls bright and the faces of the teachers long, Marge Williams leaves her constant stream of chatter to junior Marge Sabo.

Thirty-Fourth: June Pettigrew's beauty will be missed, but not if Ginny Nichols cares to fill her place.

Thirty-Fifth: Joe Coleman leaves to Miss Cutler horrible memories of his slang.

Thirty-Sixth: Janet Scott and Bobbie Tromans leave their outstanding athletic ability to juniors Mary Stafford and Dorleen Walker.

Thirty-Seventh: To Helen Berkman, Mary Hayes leaves her parts in all Bassick plays.

Thirty-Eighth: Marvin Frank leaves his track shoes to the last of the Silver clan, Martin, in order that he may run up and down the main stem collecting ads for Mr. K.

Thirty-Ninth: Mrs. Mullins' right hand, Lillian Hull, leaves her secretarial ability to Helen Matto.

Fortieth: Jimmy Alexader of "The Rock", Tom McGannon of the South End, and Bill Boyce of the "Sticks" leave their stamping grounds to Sweet Pea Tolster, Bill Daley, and Bill Powers.

Forty-First: Ginny Speiser leaves her corny joking to any junior brave enough to undertake such a task.

Forty-Second: To any junior or sophomore Betty Erickson leaves her supply of tardy excuses.

Forty-Third: To Sally Gronberg, "Peanuts" Rezendes leaves her amazing amount of vitality.

Forty-Fourth: Flo Hamm and Irene Daniels leave their shorthand books to any juniors who can manage those curlicues.

Forthy-Fifth: To all the boys in the service of our country, and to those who will serve in the future, the best of luck and God speed you home safely.

★ ★ Class Reunion Pact ★ ★

Inasmuch as the Class of 1945 will undoubtedly attain such lofty pinnacles of fame and fortune and because we sincerely hope to continue the friendships formed in high school, the Class will wish to gather together in the future. Therefore, the following proclamation is ordered.

We hereby announce that it is our earnest intention to hold our class reunion ten years from the year of our graduation on a date to be announced in the newspapers and on the school bulletin.

The committee in charge of the reunion shall consist of the class officers and the authors of this pact.

All members of the Class are expected to attend either alone or with their families without account of social position, responsibilities, or obligations.

We, the undersigned, hereby pledge our loyal support of this Pact and agree to fulfill the conditions herein to the best of our ability.

Senior Mothers' Tea

Although rain accompanied the first day of spring, the senior mothers' tea turned out to be a complete success. The air of the new season was accented by a yellow color scheme, and about Rooms 17 and 19 were vases of daffodils and pussy willows. The girls on the committee made their way around, helping mothers and the facilty to tea, cookies, cakes, and candy, while Rita Gann, Grace Molnar, June Pettigrew, and Pat Casazza supplied an interesting program of entertainment.

Row Three: Joseph Coleman, Joyce Liptak.

Row Two: William Podrasky, Patricia Beebe, Bernadine Haedecke, Shirley Nieuwboer, Rita Gann, Howard Martin, Robert Hubbard, Gilbert Noren, Lawrence Kane.

Row One: Harold Davis, Beautrice Ericson, Robert Dunn, Mary Hayes.

Senior Play

Every year the Senior Class endeavors to put on a class play, under the very able direction of Miss Mae McNulty, and this year was by no means an exception.

On December 1, 1944, the class of 1945 presented "Spring Green." The students of Bassick, along with their friends, entered our auditorium with a certain doubt in their minds as to how the play could be really good with less than a month for rehearsals.

When it was over, there wasn't any more doubt about it. The cast, and we must not forget the stage crew, the make-up squad, and the scenic artists, did an excellent job; and we think "Spring Green" will join the ranks of the "never to be forgotten" plays of Bassick.

The Student Council

The Student Council, which is composed of the presidents of the home rooms, devotes itself to working with the faculty and administrative officers in "promoting, supervising, and regulating worth-while student activities." This organization, sponsored by Mrs. Katherine Mullins, represents the whole student body and aims all its thought to its slogan, "Cooperation."

The members of the Student Council learn democratic government through experience. The principal business at each meeting is discussing and voting on measures presented to the Council by the home room presidents. Some of the many activities sponsored by the Council this year are centered on the war, especially the selling of war bonds and stamps. This responsibility has been placed in the hands of a special War Committee through whose efforts Bassick's war bonds and stamps sales have reached a figure approximating $100,000.00. The group also initiated the movement to present to the school a permanent servicemen's memorial plaque and are helping to raise funds toward its purchase.

War Committee of the Student Council

Although V-E Day finally arrived on May 8 and the Germans surrendered, the war is not yet over. In the Pacific the Japanese are still taking a terrible toll of American lives. He who lets down now is a traitor to his country. Keep up the weekly purchase of war stamps! Our forces need food, ammunition, planes, ships.

THE SOPHOMORE CLASS

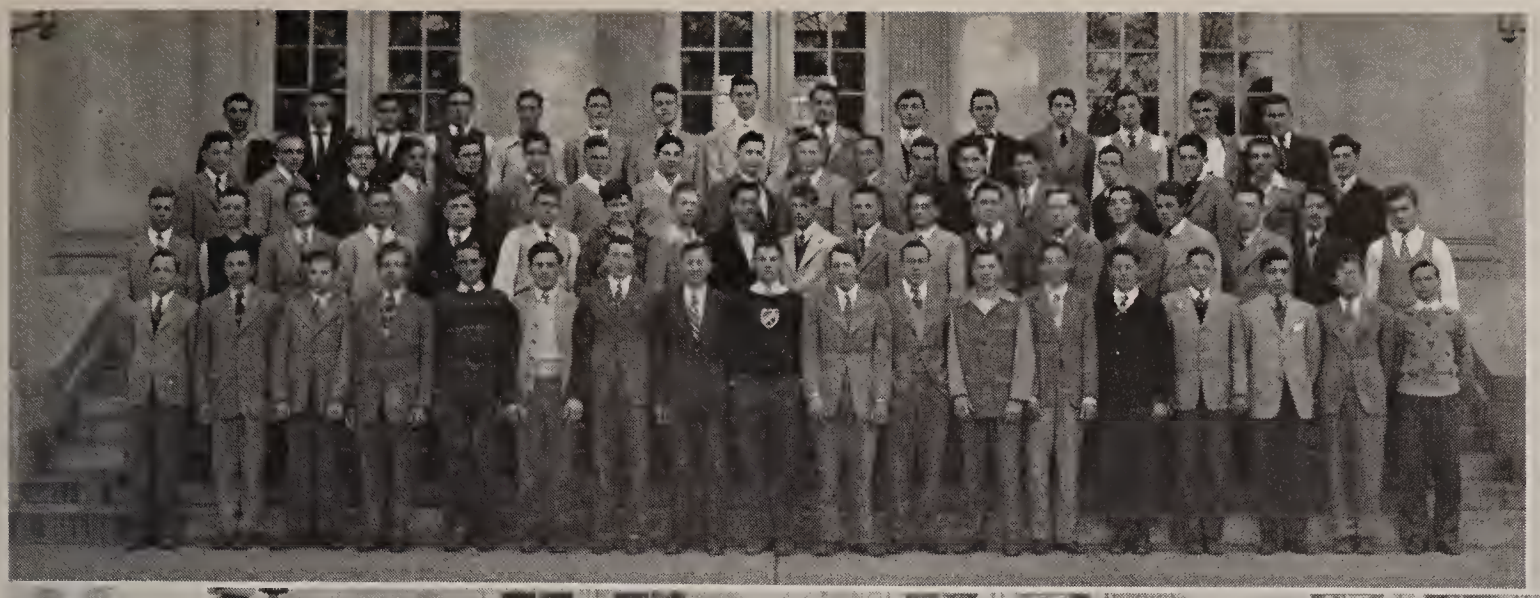
Junior Class Officers

These are the officers of the Junior Class who have done such an excellent job in leading the Class of '46. It wasn't too easy, but all was fine under the supervision of our wonderful class adviser, Miss Helen Anderson.

As president, Bud Casey won the admiration of all. Always on hand to help in an emergency was Sue Bitzer, the vice-president. The minutes of our meetings were kept very efficiently by our attractive secretary, Bernice Bernier while Paul Gulyassy took excellent care of our vast (oh, but yes!) treasury. The credit for making our entertainments successful goes to our vivacious director of social activities, Sal Gronberg.

Our year's activities began with the Junior Mothers' Tea on November 15, 1944. On March 16, 1945, we had our first dance, the Basket Ball, at which the basketball team was honored. On April 4 the class sponsored a fascinating assembly at which Mr. Robert Zimmerman, diver, spoke on deep-sea diving. All Girls' Day followed on April 6 on which occasion the girls held a fashion show and game meet. We expect to ride into our senior year in fine fettle and with the same successful results.



THE JUNIOR CLASS

Row Two: John Starr, Doris Ferris, Lillian Dennison, Teresa Curley, Miss Heider, Irene Daniels, Priscilla Hussey, Florence Hamm, Harold Manasevit.

National Honor Society

The aim of the National Honor Society is to promote scholarship, leadership, character, and service. Each year, first honor students exemplifying these qualities are inducted into the society with an impressive ceremony.

The group, guided by Miss Margaret Heider, this year successfully gave a Christmas and Spring party. At the end of the year a gift was made to the Student Loan Fund and an award was presented to the most outstanding member.

The officers are Gilbert Noren, President; Barbara Kurtz, Vice-President and Director of Social Activities; Barbara Gilbert, Secretary; and Paul Buckingham, Treasurer.

Junior Classical League

The Junior Classical League is composed of the students of Vergil and Cicero and had a membership of about 30 pupils in 1944-1945. The intent of the group is to foster the study and cultivate understanding of Latin and other classical subjects. Programs are held throughout the year during class time for pleasure and knowledge.

Scholarship-Leadership

A scholarship-leadership pin is a badge of intelligence and personality. Each year five per cent of the junior and senior classes receive these pins. To be a candidate, a student must show the qualities of a leader, one who takes an active part in school life; he must maintain an average of eighty per cent or better in his school work; and he must have the necessary votes from his classmates. The juniors receive silver pins; the seniors, gold pins which they wear for a year. At graduation seven per cent of the seniors are given permanent possession of the gold pins.

English

The largest single department in Bassick High School is English. The students spend four long years learning to read, write and speak their mother tongue. During this time they receive instruction in spelling, grammar, and composition. The courses attempt to give each student a knowledge and appreciation of our great literature, both the classic and modern writers.

Sewing

The sewing classes under the guidance of Miss Huntress and Mrs. Church learn to cut and sew all types of clothing from under garments to heavy coats. This year the students have also made ditty bags and other articles to be sent to the armed forces through the American Junior Red Cross.

Problems of Democracy

One of the several courses in history open to students is problems of American democracy. The classes consider the difficulties and problems which beset the American democratic republic. The study of our government, its problems, and its working, along with the questions which face society today will form for this country a more intelligent body of citizens.

Home Nursing

Miss Donnelly, the school nurse, has instructed three classes, totaling fifty-eight girls this year, in the principles of home nursing. This course teaches the girls fundamental methods for care of the sick in the home and the ways to carry out a doctor's orders.

Spanish

The Spanish classes strive to master a working knowledge of the language and to appreciate the rich cultural heritage of Spain in Europe and in Latin America. The skills of speaking the language with ease and writing it accurately are equally stressed with that of learning to read Spanish well.

Transcription

The Bassick commercial seniors will never find themselves unable to re-read their shorthand notes for the need of such practice was recognized in 1939 when the "transcription class" was added to the secretarial course. The standard of passing in this class is not on a percentage basis, but rather the standard of the business man, which, in short, is A MAILABLE LETTER.

Physics

College physics prepare the students not only for an engineering career and allied technical professions but also offers them a wide educational background in one of the basic natural sciences, particularly information on natural force in the physical world.

Electric Shop

In the electric shop course the boys are taught the fundamentals of electrical theory and mathematics, electrical wiring, and some simpler construction details of electrical equipment. The advanced classes take up automobile and house wiring and receive instruction in the international Morse code.

Science and Math

The course, science and mathematics, is comparatively new. The classes are given a survey of algebra, geometry, and trigonometry during the first half of the year. In the second half physics is studied. During the second year industrial application in the above fields of mathematics is taken up, and the study of physics continued.

Wood Shop

Among the industrial arts courses offered the students is wood shop. The purpose of this course is to teach the boys the basis for carpentry and fine craftsmanship. The experience and knowledge, gained in this and associated classes of the same type, will help these boys to take their places in modern industry.

Aeronautics

The class in elementary aeronautics is now in its second year as a flying course. It is intended for all who wish to study the theory of flying whether or not they wish to become fliers. Bassick pupils last year flew some 200 hours, and about a dozen had solo flights.

Typewriting

In the typewriting classes the commercial students become acquainted with the fundamentals of typing. A complete study of the typewriter tends to create careful use of the machines. The students learn the correct placement of the fingers, and the rules and regulations of typewriting. When this is mastered, the students strive to improve their typing accuracy and speed.

CLUBS

Row Two: Arlene Sivec, Katherine Shey, Irene Daniels, Miss Cooper, Grace Urban, Consiglia Felicella, Jean Fritz.

Row One: Frances Healy, Helen Cogguillo, Florence Hamm, Barbara Gilbert, Helen Csizmazia, Bertha Takacs, Ethel Sokody.

Order of Bassick Secretaries

The Order of Bassick Secretaries is a group of seniors maintaining honor grades in their secretarial studies. The purpose of the club is to increase the efficiency of its members and to add to the enjoyment of their school life.

During the year the program of the O. B. S. under the sponsorship of Miss Elaine Cooper included lectures by people prominent in the business world and visits to various local firms. Social events of the year were the Christmas banquet, the trip to New York, and a "Rush" party in the spring for the juniors.

Library Squad

The Library Squad has been a great success under its able sponsor, Miss Lamb. The squad is really indispensable to the library. In addition to rendering service to the school by assisting in the library, the members receive training in the proficient use of libraries by both instruction and practical work.

Marily Gordy, director of social activities, has been kept busy with the social activities of the year: a candy sale, book exhibit, Christmas party, faculty tea, and bowling party. In spite of the hard work the members of this organization do, they also have their share of fun.

Row Two: Jean Farrar, Amelia Janusaitis, Priscilla Foote, Ann Sachy, Frances Pearson, Marjorie Lundahl, Jane Griffin, Miss Lamb, Irene Pato, Carolyn Kronick, Mary Taylor, Ruth Watt, Blanche Resko, Olympia Tegulias.

Le Cercle Francais

Le Cercle Francais is an organization founded and conducted by the French teachers, Miss Ulrika Benson and Miss Margaret Dougal. The combined French classes gather monthly to enjoy and be entertained by a splendid committee which endeavors to do its utmost to bring out the beautiful French of our practicing linguists.

The real purpose of this gathering is for its members to become better acquainted with the customs, language, and culture of France. The French Club is entertained by the short skits, humorous jokes in French, and the delightful melodies sung by everyone and sometimes by our golden-voiced soloists. Occasionally, the meetings are enlightened by motion picture films showing the lovely French countryside, homes, joyous festivals, and beautiful cathedrals.

At these meetings everyone is assured a wonderful time in both an instructive and humorous way.

Row Two: Doris Rezendes, Katherine Antey, Lois Marsden, Ann McNamara, Miss Kresge, Joseph Saad, Denny Ekins, Frances Weinberg, Barbara Kurtz, Bernice Bernier.

Bassick Voice Literary Staff

These are the busy students whose duty it is to gather and write the "what, where, and when's" of school events. The staff puts out six editions of the paper this year under the excellent direction of Miss Ruth Kresge, literary supervisor; and Robert Hubbard, editor-in-chief. The Voice includes news stories, feature articles, editorials, sports news, interviews, and highlights of school personalities in the Goldfish Bowl and Moaning Low.

Voice Business Staff

Both the school newspaper and yearbook are managed financially by the Bassick Voice Business Staff under the able leadership of Mr. Emanuel Kleinwald. The duties of the members of this group cover many different angles. These members are responsible for obtaining subscriptions, directing circulation, and soliciting advertisements. They see that the money is collected from each home room and take charge of advertising revenue. The complete financial management of all finances is in their hands.

The Business Staff, which is composed of members of the Sophomore, Junior, and Senior classes, gains a practical knowledge of salesmanship and valuable experience in business affairs. Poise and self-confidence is developed through their contacts with men in many walks of life.

Yearbook Art and Literary Staff

The Yearbook is the annual publication of the graduating class of Bassick High School. The staff is composed of representatives from each senior home room, members of the school newspaper staff, and outstanding students of the art classes. Miss Miriam Mallay is adviser to the literary staff which compiles and edits the Yearbook, and Mr. Henry Walsh is adviser to the art staff which prepares the art work. This Yearbook, edited by the students and their advisers, will be a permanent record of the Class of 1945.

Safety Council

The Bassick Chapter of the National Safety Council of America, sponsored by Mr. Warren L. Brown, was formed early in January. In order to bring to each student the need for safety in every-day life, especially to promote caution in these strenuous days, delegates from each home room were elected. At the meetings plans are made for presenting safety lessons to the home rooms, movies, and speakers at Council meetings. It is the duty of each elected delegate to report to the home room on the morning following each semi-monthly meeting the information discussed at the delegates' meeting. Safety information, which discusses safety on the highway, in industry, and in the home, is furnished by the National Safety Council of America to the school's council.

The student body has been recently asked to contribute financially to the fine work of the delegates by the purchase of miniature sticker safety posters to aid in paying for the council charter. It is the hope of each delegate that the safety information passed on to the students will be heeded both in this war-time period and in the coming peace.

A Cappella Choir

The Bassick A Cappella Choir, although a new organization in the school, has won many laurels for its excellent performances in Bassick and elsewhere. Under the direction of Miss Grace Laing the choir has been very active in its first year. The members presented musical programs at meetings, Christmas pageants, a sunrise service, and two programs over the radio. The secret of Miss Laing's and the choir's success is the wonderful inter-balance of the voices and the esprit de corps. There are at present about fifty students in the organization, and each feels his responsibility toward "putting the performance over."

Grace P. Laing

The Choruses

The Boys' and Girls' Choruses are composed of those students who have a regular music period with Miss Laing. They are two distinct groups which have performed admirably during the past year. The Girls' Chorus has sung in several programs and has taken part in a few of the programs presented by the Choir. The Boys' Chorus also has been active. Although small, the latter has achieved a great following in and around the school. The barbershop harmony which the boys presented in an assembly this year was considered by all the classes of Bassickites as one of the funniest renditions of that kind ever given. Everyone hopes that the choruses will be expanded next year and add new honor to Bassick's name.

Orchestra

Under the direction of Mr. Augustus Zavory the Bassick Orchestra provides the music for Bassick's many musical and social events throughout the year. The orchestra is usually heard at assemblies, but its opportunities of providing entertainment comprise the Bassick High dramatic productions as well as activities outside the school. The highlight of the year's work is the Annual Concert at which it not only accompanies the Choruses but also renders orchestral compositions as part of the concert program.

Row Two: Arlen Nickowitz, Frances Pearson, Molly Nichols, William Johnson, Ernest Hader, Eleanor Dori, Corky Cohan, Helene Covitt, James Crichton.

The Band

The Bassick Band, under the direction of Mr. Zavory, by its stirring music helps to raise the fighting spirit shown by the team and the spectators at the football games. With its green and white uniforms, its snappy march rhythms, the Band is a delight to watch and listen to. Besides its duties at the football games, the Band provides musical entertainment at assemblies, playing during the procession and recession. It also assists in civic drives such as the March of Dimes at which time the Bassick Band marched down Main Street to the central collecting booth and played in the city-wide program that was being broadcast through Station WICC.

Rita Gann is the student director and does a professional job. Charles Eaton is the band manager.

Row Two: Helen Berkman, Susan Stanley, Joseph Coleman, Alice Johnson, Robert Dunn, Beatrice Ericson, Joyce Liptak, Florence Hamm.

The Spring Play

On Friday evening, March 23, 1945, after recording-breaking rehearsals, Come Rain or Shine was presented to an exceedingly full house. The audience laughed at and applauded the predicaments in which three of the members of the male sex found themselves involved, with women continually about them. Under the able direction of Miss Mae McNulty and with the apparent enjoyment of the actors and actresses in portraying their roles, the play proved a success.

Row Two: John Broad, Ernest Grouel, Andrew Hysong.
Row One: Harvey Hiltz, Mr. Walsh, Vasil Pittu, Thomas D'Alessandro.

Scenic Artists

The Scenic Artists are composed of a group of talented boys who design and execute the stage sets for the different Bassick productions. This group, guided by Mr. Henry E. Walsh, creates the sets for the two major events of the year—the Senior Play and the Spring Play.

The scenic artists, together with the help of Mr. John Buckley and the students of the Wood Shop, combine and make their work the kind that is indispensible to dramatic productions at Bassick.

Stage Crew

Under the sponsorship of Mr. Warren L. Brown, the Bassick Stage Crew has become a vital part of school life. The crew is organized like a ship with Mr. Brown as skipper. Until his induction in the Army, Hugh Chapman was first mate. He has been succeeded by Selstino Perry. Harold Carpenter is second mate, and William Fitchtel is yeoman. In addition, there are four first-class seamen, three second-class seamen, and three reserves. These boys set up scenery, arrange backdrops, and control the lighting for plays. They run the motion picture projector at assemblies and in classrooms. For graduation they set up the platform and chairs. They willingly give up study periods and stay after school to iron out difficulties in settings or to make repairs on stage equipment.

Row Three: Edith Klein, Rosyln Friedman, Rhea Borsuk, Louise McArthur, Evangeline Demas, Margaret Szabo, Bernadine Haedecke, Lillian Zeledon, Sylvia Greenstein, Miss Nichols.

Row Two: Muriel Halliwell, Geraldine Rudnick, Edith Kondor, Ninet Nebil, Wilma Cusino, Frances Bradley, Iris Abrams, Evelyn Tower.

Make-up Squad

Always behind the scenes of Bassick's great performances and ever watchful and ready to make repairs and add finishing touches are the capable members of the Make-up Squad. Under the able leadership of Miss Mary Nichols the squad gets excellent training in the use of its theatrical make-up equipment. It is the job of the squad members to help the actors and actresses by making them look their part, either more beautiful or the contrary, subtracting ten years or adding thirty or forty years to their ages. The squad has done an excellent job of which it can be rightly proud.

Ushers' Guild

The rustle of a gown. "Stubs, please." Right this way, please." Swift, graceful, down the aisle. "Program, sir." This is a familiar scene to anyone who has been shown to his seat by one of the girls of the Bassick Ushers' Guild.

These junior and senior girls who have attained an average of ninety per cent in their school work render ushering services to both their school and their community, ushering at the Senior and Spring Plays, Graduation, the Annual Concert, and at presentations given at the Klein Memorial Auditorium.

Row One: Barbara Gilbert, Denny Ekins, Mary Catherine Bradley, Frances Weinberg, Helen Simanis, Barbara Gronberg, Irene Daniels, Roberta Trager, Dorothy Bannow, Eleanor Keltos, Teresa Curley, Gloria Baum, Lillian Dennison, Doris Ferris.

Row Five: Joann Cohan, Shirley Bates, Doris Simmons, Blanche Resko, Theresa Nockowitz, Marie Roche, Katherine Roche, Marjorie Lundahl, Marilyn Riebe, Sally Sherwood, Shari Cohn, Joan Daugherty, Marylin Smith, Helen Csizmazia, Esther Karafa, Anne Sachy, Rosamund Cohan, Barbara Daly.

The Dramatic Club

Bassick's young Thespians have been taken under the able guidance of Miss Mae McNulty The dramatic club is one of the more popular clubs, and, although everyone is not lucky enough to get into the annual plays, all the members are given a chance to act in the skits presented at the meetings.

The Senior Play, "Spring Green," was a rousing success, judging from the applause heard in the auditorium the night of December 1, 1944. The spring play, "Come Rain or Shine," scored another success on March 23, 1945.

Girls Athletic Leaders Association

Hikes, soccer games, volley ball, basketball, soft ball contests, swim meets, horseback riding, all are contained in the yearly program of the G.A.L.A. Applicants for entrance are required to make 90 on their reports if they take gym or earn 50 points toward their numerals if they don't. Once accepted, they must go through the Initiation de Horror, a grotesque performance in which Bassick becomes the home for a day of ghastly monsters, created before school in the girls' shower room. A candy sale is held along with the Initiation. So, if you think you can live through the Initiation, girls, come on and join!

Row Two: Joseph Cuming, John Larson, Carl Bush, Ben Poidomani, Paul Tvardzik, Mr. Lyon.

Basketball Team

Once again Bassick High has turned out a superb basketball aggregation. The 1944-1945 court squad was the tenth team in the school's career to be represented in the State Basketball Tournament. The "iron men" entered the tournament with ten wins and four losses.

The Manchester "Pep Boys", however, brought the Bassick season to end on February 26 in the qualifying-round game at the New Haven Arena, with a score of 32 to 28. It was a see-saw affair until the last quarter when the "Pep Boys" tightened up their defense and held the Lions scoreless.

Fairfield was the only team to defeat the Lions twice during the season. The Cager's outstanding triumph was their great comeback victory over the Harding team in the two teams' second encounter of the year in the Bassick gym. This victory gave Bassick High its third undisputed city championship in history.

Bob Hustek, a junior, was chosen to captain the Lions through their brilliant season, and he was rendered excellent support by Carl Bush, Harold Davis, Julius Gazso, and Ben Poidomani.

Row Two: H. S. Lyon, Jack Norris, Robert Kochis, James Barry, Jerome Cook, William Stevens (Manager), Stanley Squinobal, David Hunter, Osborne Squires, King Frazer, H. F. Harrington (Coach).

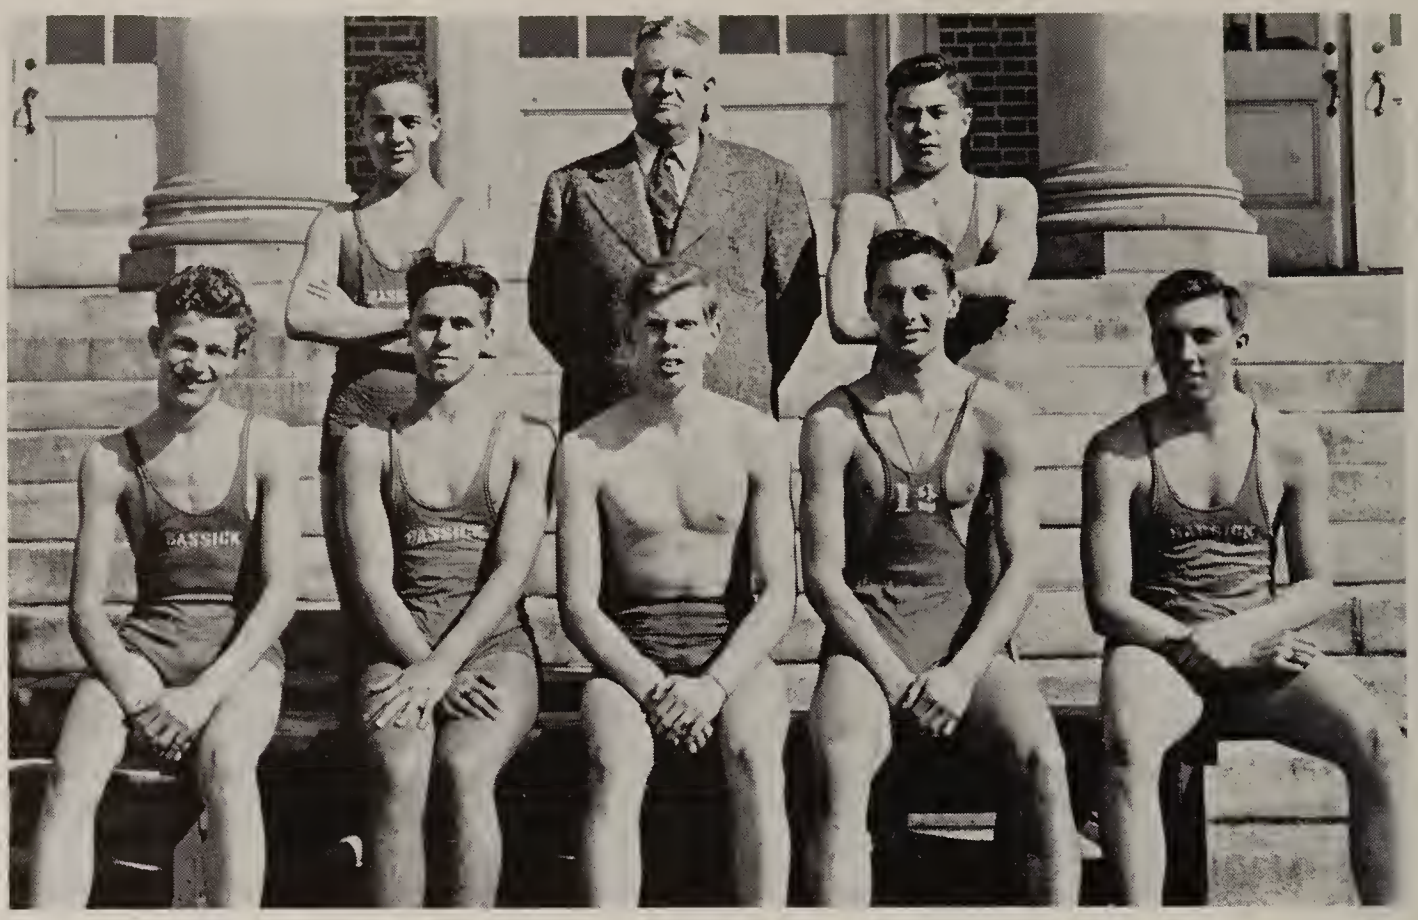
Football 1944

The season's record for the Bassick High's 1944 football team was a fair one, with three wins and five defeats. Although the record was not praiseworthy, the gridiron squad proved a hard team to score upon; and therefore making itself a hard team to beat.

Central and Harding High Schools beat Bassick in their City Championship meetings. The outstanding triumph of the season was the Lions' edging out the Stratford North Paraders on November 18. The annual Thanksgiving Day classic between Fairfield and Bassick ended with the Fairfielders on top by a score of 20-0. Bassick has still to win its first gridiron victory from the Fairfield Foxes.

A different captain was chosen for each game by the members of the team. Joe Ciccia was the captain in the Thanksgiving Day classic.



Row Two: Joseph Chaiklin, Mr. Lyon, Robert Richter.

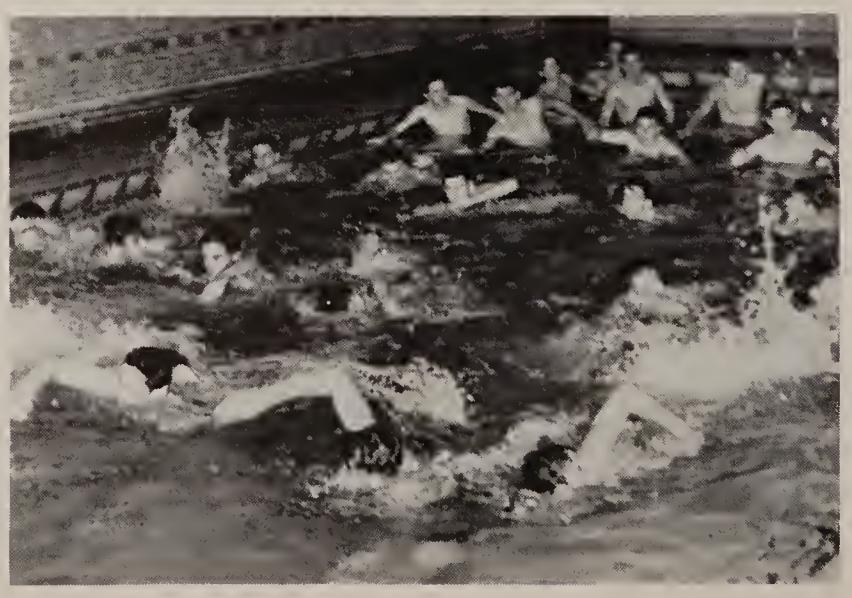
Swimming Team 1945

Bassick High School's swimming team had a very dark season, being shadowed by defeats in their seven matches. This record is explainable by the loss of much veteran material and the lack of interest shown in the sport by the students of the school. The nine-man team was headed by two hold-overs from last year's squad, Edward Giambra and Walter Shephard. The team showed a lot of fight against its opposition, but it was no match for the seasoned swimmers of the up-state schools.

Pre-Induction Swimming

About 160 senior boys partook of swimming instruction for fifteen weeks during the winter. The classes were held at the Y.M.C.A. under the auspices of the Board of Education for the purpose of preparing the boys for the aquatic demands of the armed services. Instruction was provided by Mr. E. Forrest Hallett of the American Red Cross.

Three separate groups were organized for advanced, intermediate, and beginning swimmers. Training in rescue work and opportunities for improving swimming under hazardous conditions, which simulated experiences which might be encountered at sea, were afforded the first two classes. The third division, consisting of those who were previously either unable to swim or had only slight ability, were instructed in the rudiments of swimming.



Row Two: Mr. Harrington (Coach), Donald Farrar, Gerald Casey, Norman Dempsey, Robert Molnar (Manager), Ernest Lesko, William Garrity, Vasil Pittu, Mr. Lyon (Ath. Dir.).

Baseball 1944

The Bassick High baseball team was successful in winning nine of its thirteen games. Two were lost to Stratford and one each to Greenwich and Milford. The Lions were city champions and ended up in the second place in the County League. The club played good ball and got some of the players offers from major league clubs. John Dominguez, who played great ball behind the plate, was elected captain for 1945 at the close of the 1944 season.

The Cheering Squad

Rah-Rah-Rah-Rah—Bassick High, Bassick High! . . . Team! Team! Team! These are the inspiring sounds made by our cheering squad. It has one of the most important tasks to perform during the athletic season. With its cheers the squad urges our team on to victory, and aids the spectators in maintaining the team's morale.

Under the guidance of Mr. Albert Fleischer and the leadership of Ernest Ecsedy this year's cheering squad has done a marvelous job.

For those boys who are interested in making noise here is their chance to make it.

Chess Club

The Bassick High School Chess Club, organized by Mr. Ham in 1934, has been under the guidance of Mr. Fleischer since 1941. It has the proud tradition of being the holder of the Southern Connecticut Chess League Championship for every year but one. For the past few years it has played in the Bridgeport Industrial League and against the State Trade School.

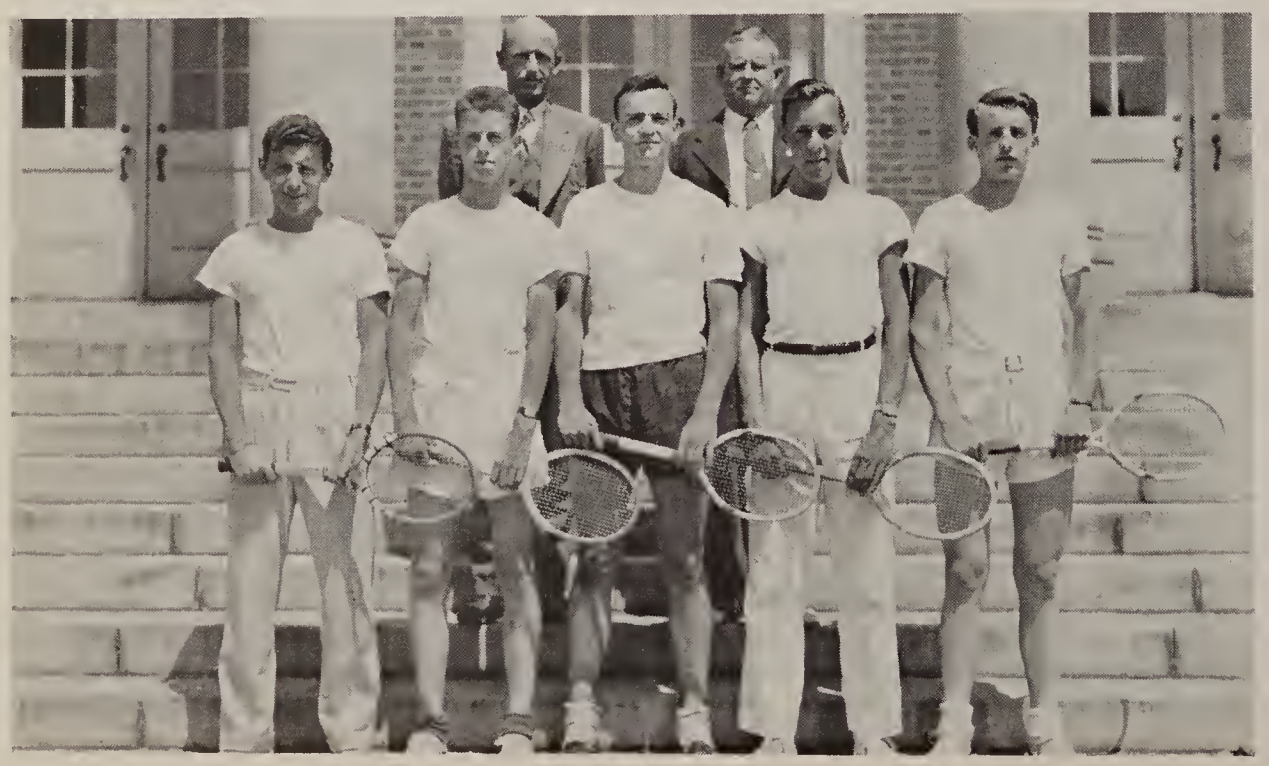
Although most of the instruction is given by actual play and criticism of moves, members are given the opportunity to learn the standard openings and end games.

The Chess Team consists of the five best players. The first board has been consistently held by Harold Zirin for the past two years, but the other players vary in accordance with the results of competitions within the club.

Tennis 1944

Fairfield High School's tennis team was the only club capable of stopping the Bassick netmen in 1944, in a seven match schedule. Bassick, however, defeated Harding twice and Central once to annex the city championship title. In the other matches with the Stratford team, Coach Carr's charges had little trouble subduing it. The closest match of the season was the second meeting of the Bassick and Fairfield courtmen. Fairfield won the three singles while the Lions won the doubles, only to lose the match by a score of 3 to 2.

Meikle, Conklin, and Shalvoy played singles. Meikle and Shalvoy played number one doubles, and Conklin and McNamara handled the number two doubles. Both doubles squads were victorious in all but one attempt.



Row Two: Mr. Charles D. Carr, Mr. Harry S. Lyon.
